

Kelly E. Dunn, Ph.D., MBA

Kelly E. Dunn, Ph.D., MBA is a Professor in the Behavioral Pharmacology Research Unit within the Department of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences in the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. Dr. Dunn has worked in the area of opioid use disorder treatment and withdrawal mitigation since 2005 and has served as the Principal Investigator on grants totaling more than $20 million from the National Institute on Drug Abuse. She is also the current or past PI several randomized trials examining methods for treating opioid withdrawal, managing comorbid chronic pain and opioid use disorder, and treating cocaine use among persons maintained on methadone. In addition, she has led several laboratory examinations of opioid-drug interactions and clinically-meaningful variations in opioid withdrawal phenotypes to inform medication development. More broadly, Dr. Dunn has served in positions of leadership in the Substance Use Disorder (SUD) field, including incoming Editor-in-Chief of the journal Experimental and Clinical Psychopharmacology (ECP), 2021 President of the American Psychological Association's (APA) Division on Psychopharmacology and Substance Use, Chair of the Board of Convention Affairs for the APA annual convention, and Co-Editor at the Journal of Addiction Medicine. She is also the editor of the forthcoming Oxford Handbook of Opioids and Opioid Use Disorder. Learn more at <https://marylandopioidresearch.com/meet-our-researchers/kelly-dunn/>