

Stacie Gutowski, PhD

Stacie Gutowski, PhD is a Program Officer at the Office of Translational Initiatives and Program Innovations at the National Institute on Drug Abuse at NIH. She is a biomedical engineer with research experience in biomaterials and neurological devices, with regulatory experience as a former FDA lead reviewer in OHT5. She currently manages a portfolio of SBIR and STTR medical devices for substance use disorders at NIDA and serves as Program Officer for the Blueprint MedTech program.

Disclosure: The speaker has no financial interests to disclose.