

Baljit S. Khakh, Ph.D.

Baljit S. Khakh (aka Bal) trained at the University of Cambridge, University of Bristol, and at the California Institute of Technology. Bal is Professor of Physiology and Neurobiology and Vice Chair of the Neuroscience Theme at UCLA. Bal's laboratory studies fundamental aspects of astrocyte biology in relation to brain function in health and disease. More information is provided here: <http://www.physiology.ucla.edu/Labs/khakh/links.htm>.